LEAGUE OF NATIONS

League Wins in Heated Legal Battle

By Lexington Attorneys

Lexington, Ky., June 27.—A resolution declaring that the treaty of peace and League of Nations should be ratified by the United States Senate precipitated a big struggle at the close of the final session of the eighteenth annual meeting of the Kentucky Bar Association to-day. After numerous points of order a motion to table and vote on the previous question, in the course of which personalities were indulged by several members and William P. Kimball, of Lexington, had charged from the floor that "the Louisville & Nashville railroad has organized the fight against this resolution." It was adopted by a vote of 79 to 27.

Resignation Offered

John B. Baskin, of Louisville, immediately offered his resignation and others were heard to say that they would withdraw from the organization. Baskin claimed that the resolution was not germane and that its introduction was in violation of the constitution of the association. "It is a feeble effort to drag politics into the association," he yelled out of a general uproar. The resolution was offered by W. W. Thum, of Louisville. Many members for recognition, desiring to be heard, but under parliamentary law the motion to table and the previous question were held undebatable, and when the issue came to a final vote the result was so certain that those who had clamored for a vote to speak because of the lateness of the hour and the election yet ahead. The strife followed one of the most impressive incidents that had marked a meeting of the State Bar.

Churchill Humphrey, of Louisville, who fought through the war as an Ensign in command of a torpedo boat destroyer in French waters, closed a masterful address on "The Law of Submarine Warfare" with an incident off Brittany which made men weep and a peroration in tribute to his comrades of Annapolis who did not live to see the victory which stirred feelings deeper. For a full minute the audience applauded. Then John B. Baskin moved that three cheers be given for Humphrey and the association put aside its dignified bearing in making them strong.

Tribute to Mrs. Humphrey As the echoes died, Edwin G. Hill, of Louisville, moved a rising vote for another who was as heroic—the devoted wife who at home kept the virgins through the still watches to the war's end, yet never forgot to smile—Mrs. Martha Churchill Humphrey. The association was on its feet in an instant and did not repress cheers and applause.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Lewis Apperson, Mt. Sterling; vice president, First district, Roscoe Reed, Paducah; Second district, W. T. Browder, Russellville; Third district Basil Richardson, Glasgow; Fourth district, John C. Doolas, Louisville; Fifth district, George C. Webb, Lexington; Sixth district, D. Collins Lee, Covington; Seventh district, High Eldred, Irvine. Members of the Executive Committee, W. A. Berry, Paducah, S. C. Eaves, Greenville; Robert G. Gordon, Louisville; George R. Hunt, Lexington; J. E. Robbins, Mayfield; Treasurer, W. W. Crawford, Louisville; Secretary, J. V. Conner, Louisville.

TEACHER'S EXAMINATION

The County examination for white teachers was held at Fordsville, Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21. Fifteen took the examination. The Examiners were: Prof. W. S. Hill, of Cevalvo; Prof. Ellis Sander, of Beaver Dam; and County Superintendent E. S. Howard. The highest average was made by Mr. Tom Hamilton, of Reynolds, whose average was 98.

Those who made first class certificates were: Mable Russell, Echols; O. T. Kittenger, Equality; Tom Lamitos, Reynolds; Martino Ward Kirk, Hartford; Nellie Arnold, Horse Branch; Mrs. T. B. Frymire, Horse Branch; Anna Lou Ha-zlerigg, Beaver Dam.

Those making second class certificates were: E. F. Leo, Olanton; Marie Fuqua, Fordsville; Ina Gillum, Narrows; Ada Wedding, Fordsville; Amby Peckenpaugh, Fordsville; Opla Brooks, Fordsville; Cliff Austin, Beaver Dam and Mrs. O. N. Stewart, Beaver Dam.

There were no failures. Mrs. O. W. Duff, of Fordsville, took the State Certificate examination.

INSTITUTE BEGINS MONDAY

The Ohio County Teachers' Institute will begin Monday and be in session for five days, ending July 11th. All teachers in the county who expect to teach must attend this Institute. An interesting program has been arranged and the time will be of profit to all who are in attendance. Owing to the illness of Prof. Schliff, who had been selected as instructor, Prof. McHenry Rhodes, State Supervisor of Schools, will preside as instructor. Prof. Schliff, whose home is in Lebanon, Tenn., took suddenly ill accepted an invitation to be present and act as instructor. He is well known in this county, having taught in the high school here several years ago. An unusually successful session is expected.

ENSIGN POWNELL'S SPEECH

Ensign Pownell, of the Salvation Army, spoke at the courthouse Thursday evening in interest of the Salvation Army drive. Mr. Pownell, whose home is at Paintsville, Ohio, went on in the beginning of the war and spent several months with the American troops on the firing line. He was once gassed and was within range of the shells several times. Once he was a target for the German rifle fire while carrying hot chocolates and other dainties to the soldiers in the trenches. His descriptions of the fighting overseas were very accurate and he is very entertaining as a speaker.

PICNIC AT SULPHUR SPRINGS

A Sunday-school picnic lasting the entire day was held at Sulphur Springs Sunday. A large crowd was present and a delightful day was spent by all. Dinner was served on the ground and people gathered from far and near to take an outing, m'x and ming' and work for better Sunday schools. It was held by the joint co-operation of the Dundee Methodist circuit. A program was rendered in the afternoon.

PLEASE NOTICE!

The sugar advertisement of Acton Brothers, which appears elsewhere in this issue, was run this week through mistake. It is our custom to run off half of our paper on Monday and the last part, containing the local matter, on Tuesday. Mr. Acton informed us Monday evening, after we had run off our first side, that his supply of sugar was exhausted and therefore the ad was null and void. Our readers will be governed accordingly.

MRS. LUCINDA SHANKS DEAD.

Mrs. Lucinda Shanks, widow of the late Colonel Q. C. Shanks, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lucy Hubbard, Monday morning at 10 o'clock. She was ninety-eight and one-half years of age and was probably the county's oldest inhabitant. She was formerly a Miss Taylor, daughter of Richard Taylor, and was the last survivor of that family. She was married in 1838 to Col. Q. C. Shanks, deceased, and to this union were born three daughters, two of whom died several years since and the only one living is Mrs. Lucy Hubbard, at whose home she died. Funeral services were conducted at the residence Tuesday afternoon which she was laid to rest at Oakwood cemetery.

BIG CHATAUQUA HERE

JULY 24TH, 25TH, 26TH

Big Community Gathering Is Arranged for and interest in Program Billed

The big community meet for which a number of local citizens have arranged, under the auspices of the Radcliffe Chautauqua System, has its dates announced as July 24, 25 and 26 for Hartford.

The Chautauqua is to be an expression of community ideals and the public-spirited citizens who have put their shoulders to this local educational enterprise have done so in the expectation that they will have the enthusiastic co-operation of all.

Roosevelt has characterized the Chautauqua as "the most American institution in America." It is as typically American as are skyscrapers, phonographs, corn-cakes, elevators, Ford cars and Presidential conventions. Six thousand American towns had Chautauqua last year, community gathering-places where enlightenment and entertainment were found in harmonious blend.

It is interesting to know that the Radcliffe Chautauqua of Washington, D. C. is by a good deal the largest organization, "of its kind," with its "far-flung line of khaki tents from Delaware Bay to the Golden Gate." It organizes a three-day program on a basis that avoids mere amusement-vending for speculative profit.

A glimpse of what is in store for us and of the nature of the program is afforded by a recent interview by W. L. Radcliffe. All worthy Chautauqua are educational in their purpose. But the Chautauqua that bears his name has conceived its mission not merely to be educational, but to conduct a deliberate crusade of Education. Mr. Radcliffe is quoted as saying:

"Now that I have an opportunity to address 3,000,000 people through the 12,800 audiences of the South and the South-West on our Chautauqua circuits in 1919, I am determined, through our lecturers to carry on a nation-wide drive for Education, Education and more Education."

The draft showed that 750,000 Americans of army age could not read or write. Of these 165,000 were sent to France, good Americans, who could not read or write their own names. Democracy is not safe when vast numbers are uneducated.

"Among us are 5,500,000 illiterates. We cannot contemplate the backward condition of the rural schools, the out-of-dateness of the 'little red school house,' and the failure of existing methods to bear fruit in mental efficiency and in morale, without deep concern."

"Every intelligent American is charged with the responsibility of remedying this situation, so that each American child may have an equal chance. The bigness of the opportunity should make us eager to get at this task. Our after-the-war crusade is to write that word, Education, across the map, as America's only guarantee against the spread of bolshevism."

A NEWSPAPER MAN'S PILGRIMAGE

Our friend, Lyman Barrett who has just recently returned from overseas, tells us of a trip that was given free of charge to men in the American Expeditionary Forces who had some newspaper experience. There were about six hundred in the company and they ranged from Colonels down to privates. All rank and military formality was thrown to the winds and the men met as equals, bunking and messing together. They visited the Rhine country, the battlefields of the war, Paris and other parts of France. Mr. Barrett says the trip was the most beneficial he ever had the pleasure of taking.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank my many friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and death of my dear mother, Mrs. Lucy Shanks. The memory of the departed one will be ever enhanced by the reflection of your kindness.

MRS. LUCY HUBBARD.

WAR-TIME PROHIBITION

Says Attorney-General Palmer In Reference to Sale of Beer and Wines

Washington, June 30.—Attorney General Palmer announced tonight as long as the wartime prohibition law remains in force it must be obeyed and the department of justice will do its utmost "to perform the duty which congress has placed upon it" in enforcing the law.

He declared the department's course with regard to the manufacture and sale of beer containing less than 2 1/2 per cent alcohol will depend upon the rulings made by the district courts in which the cases are now pending.

The fact that the litigation is pending will be no protection against prosecution or offenses under the law.

THE VENEER OF THE YEARS

BY WALTER GREEP.

CHAPTER XVI

A SUDDEN RESOLVE

For five years after Merlin influenced the railroad company to build their line into Benson City he lived a peaceful and happy life. His salary was increased the second year and remained stationary; the people with whom he boarded were congenial and made him feel at home and among the townspeople, whether old residents or new arrivals, he was always popular. So the years sped on, happily for him, but he did not write Sam-antha. Somehow he did not deem it best to send her a message just yet. He felt there was something yet in store for him; something he was worthy of and must attain, before he wrote her. So he waited.

But he was not idle all these years as to his life-purpose. Soon after the line was completed and the boom was beginning to diminish, the town settled into a bustling and progressive quiet. He was left alone more and was to himself more than in the days when he was the city's hero. Also, the work at the office was not so exacting as in the days of the big rush and he had time to devote to outside work. This time he spent in the study of the English language and the mastery of technique. After he decided he had sufficient knowledge, he began work on his book. At first it was very hard. His pen refused to write the right word, the characters would not form themselves into the beings he had dreamed them, and as he viewed his task it seemed so formidable that his heart quailed. Then the lure of the story that was in his heart and the impulse that cried for expression, called him back to his work again. Sometimes his images would dissolve into rosy visions that were more easily dreamed than written and he would have to forego his task while he basked in the hallowings of fancy; or again his thoughts would go fluttering away into the distance, dragging him away from the real, chasing some butterfly whim of mental suggestion. Or again a thousand other stories than the one he was writing would crowd upon him and clamor for utterance. But, holding tenaciously to his purpose, he pushed them all aside until the theme upon which he was writing had been dealt with. But his superlative intellect soon overcame all difficulties until at last he found the story flowing smoothly on, with out ripple or jar, toward a logical conclusion. It was the subject that lay nearest his heart. Into it he wove the glamor and gleam of his dreams and the glowing threads of his aspirations, till finally it became the mouthpiece of his soul, the expression of his every desire.

And so, at the end of five years, he found his manuscript completed. When he finished the last page and wrote "The End" at the bottom, he sighed both from relief and genuine regret. His book was completed and he had accomplished something. He tried to picture himself as a famous author—the reign at the literary clubs as hero of them all the pride that would gleam in Sam-antha's eyes, the handshakes and congratulations of old friends—ah, the hopeful vision! The sunburst of his success was nigh, the skies of his future infinitely blue.

During the next few days he spent his odd moments in going over his manuscript, correcting minor details, supplying words or omitting them as seemed necessary, until it was an object of pride to him. Within a week it was ready to submit to the publisher. Then the question arose: Would it be better for him to submit it by mail or go personally before the publishers and urge its acceptance? He decided upon the latter course. And then a sudden resolve struck him. Why wait days or months and delay the issue of his book while he toiled at a bookkeeper's desk? The story held for him fame, honor that he should have. He did not count up on it bringing wealth but hoped the prestige it would give him would enable him to secure a position. Reasoning from this standpoint, he resigned his position with the Smelting company and prepared to leave for the city.

He took an inventory of himself and found that he had as a balance some two thousand dollars. This he withdrew and packed his trunk for the journey.

The next morning, when he formally presented his resignation to the proprietor, the old gentleman seemed very much moved. He demanded Merlin's reason for leaving so unceremoniously.

"You certainly have treated me fairly and squarely," said Merlin, "and I regret leaving you, but I have a little deal in another part of the country I wish to put through."

"What is the nature of this deal?" he asked.

"It is purely a venture and is private," Merlin answered, and I beg your pardon, but I don't like to disclose it."

The proprietor laughed, "Well, young man, you needn't resign for that. Just ask for a lay off and come back to me. I've been looking for this for a long time. But I didn't know it was going to cost me my bookkeeper. Love is a strange thing, though, and causes stranger things to happen."

"What do you mean?" asked Merlin.

The boss' tone changed. "Why, aren't you going to get married?" he asked.

"I should say not—I have no thought of marriage. It is rather a business scheme that I am interested in though not that exactly either."

"Oh, I beg your pardon."

"And about my resignation?"

"I will have to accept, I suppose, as there is no alternative. I never hated to give up an employee so badly. Goodbye, young man, and God bless you!"

Merlin grasped the extended hand, said goodbye and hastened from the office.

That evening he waved farewell from the window of the train to his friends on the depot platform, then he struck back over the same trail to the city, the trail over which he had come six weary years before.

REPUBLICAN CLERKS IN SENATE OPPOSE NEGRO

Washington, D. C.—Republican clerks in the office of the Secretary of the Senate protested when J. Silas Harris, a negro, was appointed to succeed Martin J. Gallagher, a Democrat, who had been a member of the clerical staff for six years. Assistant Secretary Henry Rose joined the objectors and was subsequently reprimanded by members of the Republican patronage committee and reminded that his action might give offense to black voters.

Harris got his position through the influence of Senator Spencer of Missouri. Harris was formerly editor of a negro weekly newspaper and at one time was a teacher in a negro school in Kansas City. It is understood that Senator Spencer obtained the appointment for Harris to quiet criticisms and complaints among Missouri negroes who charge that they have been ignored by Republican leaders in their state.

Martin J. Gallagher is a resident of St. Louis. His dismissal from the secretarial staff of the Senate, it is admitted, was not for want of ability or experience, but simply to make room for a negro to whom Senator Spencer owed a political debt. Assistant Secretary Rose and most of the clerks who objected to Gallagher's removal are Republicans. They resented the displacement of a capable and faithful white employee to create a vacancy for a negro politician who had nothing to recommend him but his usefulness to Senator Spencer and other Missouri Republicans.

DEMOCRATIC EXTRAVAGANCE AND REPUBLICAN THRIFT

They said we were extravagant; They also said that they would see, if they had half a chance,

That there'd be less to pay.

They said they would repeal the laws

That Democrats had passed; At such paternalistic deeds They said they stood aghast.

But look at what they plan to do. Now that they have the chance. Of millions we gave seventy-five That Good Roads might advance.

That road law they have not repealed; It goes on as before, But in the name of thrift they add Four hundred millions more.

We're glad that they have changed their minds—

For what's consistency? The more they follow where we've led,

The better they will be!

See us for your woven wire fence. Prices right.

ARMY MEASURE PASSES SENATE, IN CONFERENCE

Washington, June 29.—The army appropriation bill, carrying $800,000,000 and providing for an average army of 400,000 men next year, was passed late today by the senate without roll call and sent to conference.

Before the passage of the bill, Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, withdrew his amendment to declare war with Germany and Austria at an end, explaining he expected action within a day or two on the joint resolution to the same effect as regards Germany, now before the foreign relations committee.

The senate later began the consideration of the annual naval appropriation bill, carrying $646,272,000, an increase of $45,000,000 over the house bill. Passage of the naval bill tomorrow is desired, and leaders in an effort to enact all appropriation bills needed by July 1, then plan to rush through the $500,000 sundry civil budget.

SMILES

A little boy, aged four years attended Sunday-school for the first time. After arriving home, his father asked him what the lesson was about. He thought a moment before answering: "The teacher said, 'Don't get scared, you'll get your quilt.'" His parents were somewhat puzzled over the answer and could not imagine what their young son meant. A little later the little girl, aged seven, with whom he had been to Sunday-school, came to play with the boy. She was asked what the Sunday-school lesson was about. She gave the correct version: "Fear not, the Comforter will come."

"There's nothing to equal the Yankee sense of humor. One of the boys in the trenches, who has evidently been greatly troubled by cooties, says he knows now why the pictures of Napoleon always show him with his hand inside his shirt."

"What military experience have you had?" asked the registrar in a little town in the South, of a flashily dressed negro who had presented himself for registration.

"Ise deno been shot at twice, sah."

Officer: Now, Smith, you had twenty-four hours' leave to see your wife and child. You have been away forty-eight. What have you got to say for yourself?

Smith: "But it was twice, sir!"

Householder: "Rastus, we are house-cleaning, and I wonder if I could get you to clean the cellar."

Rastus: "Depends, sah. Ah's a specialist, sah. Ah specialize in wine an' beer cellars."

Wife: "Hello! Dr. Bunyun? Yes? Come right away. Mr. Little has another one of his spells."

Doctor (half hour later): "Why didn't you send for me sooner? You should not have waited till your husband was unconscious."

Wife: "Well, as long as he had his senses he wouldn't let me send for you."

We are glad to learn that Mrs. Willets is able to be out again. It is nearly two months since she kicked at the cat, and broke her knee-cap against the door. Society has missed her very much.

Guide: "Sir, there is an extraordinary echo to be heard at this spot. For instance, suppose you shout, 'Two mugs of beer' as loud as you can, and listen."

Simple Tourist: "Two mugs of beer!" (Pause.) "I can't hear the echo."

Guide: "No, sir? Well, anyhow, here comes the beer."

He held her tightly in his khaki-clad arms till she wavered at his silence and gently murmured:

"Do you love me, my hero?"

"Yes," he sighed.

"Yes, what?" she softly queried.

"Yes, sir," and then he knew his foot had slipped!

Colonel (to Rastus): "Don't you know enough to salute your superior officer?"

Rastus: "Don't be offended, kunnel. When ah'm peevish this way, ah don't even speak to mah own mothah."

"When I come around again, the surgeon says to me: 'I'm blooming sorry, mate, I don't know what I was thinking about,' he says, 'but there's a sponge missin', and I believe it's inside yer.' 'What's the odds,' I says, 'let it be.' And there it is to this day."

Gullible Old Gentleman: "Bless my soul!"

Unable Seaman: "I don't feel no particular pain from it, but I do get most uncommonly thirsty."

Negro Sergeant: "When I say 'Bout face!' you place de toe of yo' right foot six inches to de rear of de heel of yo' left foot and jus' ooze aroun'."

Rastus, awakened by reveille, got up, and, scratching himself, remarked: "Man, ah feel like fohty cents this mawnin'."

"What do you mean, niggah?" asked Mese: "you mean thirty cents."

"Ah said fohty cents," replied Rastus; "don't forget to add that wah tax."

GOOD REASONS FOR GOOD ROADS

There is a worthy movement on foot for better roads. Every business man, every home provider, and every motorist should support it. Good roads benefit all classes of people in their everyday life.

This vast country has grown so enormously and so fast that its railroads cannot deliver the goods, nor carry the people as the prosperity of the country and present demands require.

With good roads the farmer can deliver all his products direct to towns within a radius of fifty or more miles and though making more profit himself, he is reducing the high cost of living.

The merchant is able to take advantage of new sources of supply, to buy his stock under favorable conditions, and give it on sale to his customers in less time than he could have secured delivery by the slower and costlier railway express and freight service. With motor trucks he can then redeliver to his customers and give better service over a larger territory. Automobile delivery will increase his business, lessen his cost, and increase his profits.

Millions of dollars are lost every year through perishable goods spoiling on the railroads because of freight delays and complications. Inter-city motor express over distances of a hundred or more miles has already become a profitable business where good roads exist. Single large firms have actually saved over $100,000 yearly by using motor trucks and they will undoubtedly contribute largely to organized improvement of roads.

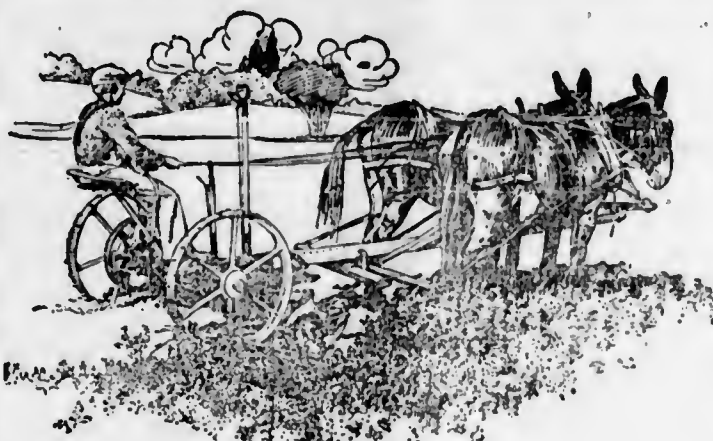

Good roads are a paying investment. Local authorities in cities, towns and counties should act without delay to meet the growing national and local demands before trade goes in other directions. It is almost impossible to get back the lost advantage after other districts have won it.

Good roads bring automobilists. They spend money. Good roads bring trade, and increase property values. They attract home-seekers and industries. This country has more than six million automobile owners, one to every eighteen of the population, and about fifteen of those ride in automobiles. Owners will not go where bad roads exist and risk costly damage to their car, not only to tires but to the battery equipment used for starting, lighting and ignition. With ignition gone wrong a car cannot travel, though that difficulty is rarely experienced if magneto ignition is used.

Magneto ignition is the kind that stood all the rough usage over the battle-torn roads of France. Its dependability over any kind of road helped the Allies win the war more than anything else, even than men or guns because they couldn't have got anywhere without reliable ignition. Of course all cars should have magneto ignition, but all cars have not—only the better ones are so equipped—and even if they had, they would preferably follow the good roads and avoid bad ones.

The way to make prosperity flow into any locality is to build roads so that they will last and not have to be done over every few years.

A Boy Can Run a John Deere Dain Mower

While you are getting things in shape for making hay, put your boy on the John Deere Mower and let him do the cutting—he will do it just as well and just as easily as you can do it.

Because of the powerful lift, he can easily raise the cutter bar to pass over any field obstruction or to extreme height, when necessary. A foot lever, working in conjunction with the hand lever, makes the lift simple and easy.

He will never have to back up to get a start, even in the heaviest hay. The knife starts cutting the instant the mower is thrown in gear—no lost motion.

You will see big advantages in the drive on this machine—it's extremely simple—the gears are so placed that one set holds the other set in mesh constantly. The John Deere will cut all of the grass for years to come—a simple adjustment takes up all lag in the cutter bar, without affecting the centering of the knife. If the knife ever needs re-centering, a special adjustment is provided.

The John Deere is the simplest, most powerful and best-built mower we have ever seen. We know it will appeal to you.

Come in—it's to your advantage, to know all about this mower before you buy. While at our store, we want you to see the rest of our line of haying and harvesting machinery. We have a line of machines you can use with satisfaction and profit.

Many toppers found last Monday the bluest Monday they ever faced.

A man is judged as much by the books he reads as by the company he keeps.

It seems the Republicans are doomed to split into two well-named camps—the ob-Knoxious kind and Borah-ish variety.

Hero worship seems to be on the bum. Harry Hawker has gone home; Sergeant York is married. Won't someone start something?

Roma Balze says that during the last war he was caught in a draft but if there ever comes another it will take a cyclone to get him.

Some one has suggested Bill Bryan as a possible candidate for president. It certainly would be an appropriate time to run on the "grape juice" ticket.

The German participle "to be" is sein, and the phrase "to be or not to be" is, sein oder nicht sein. It is coincident how this comes to light just as the treaty is presented.

The Republican papers are fond of writing of Wilson, of France, instead of America. We don't remember reading their accounts of Roosevelt, of Panama, or Taft, of Mexico.

The present treaty, which the Huns have kicked up such a hullabaloo about signing, may prove to be only a "scrap of paper" with them if they ever get a chance to assert themselves again.

Singing conventions are being held in several sections of the country on every fifth Sunday. The singing convention is a pleasant and unique gathering, seemingly peculiar to this section and should be encouraged.

The Republican is much amused because the "official note writer" is not at home to send notes to Villa's bandits. Is that so? Well, we suggest that the Senate send a few as they seem unable to find anything else to do but draw their salaries.

It has become a question whether the signatures of the accredited German envoys to the peace treaty will be of very much value. With two revolutions brewing and the Crown Prince at home, it looks as if their signatures would be worth about as much as a bankrupt's signature to his neighbor's note.

If there has been any change at all as a result of the war it is most noticeable in the change in literary taste. Unlike the period directly preceding the war people are not wanting realistic or sordid literature, but bright idealistic stories. The domestic tragedy, the sex stuff that has been the capital of twentieth century authors, has suddenly become undesirable. Neither is the war story or anything touching on the mighty conflict in demand.

Having accomplished everything for which he went overseas, President Wilson is coming home. Peace, conclusive, if stable government is ever organized in Germany and equal to a declaration of martial law by the allies if it is not, has been obtained. The League of Nations has been securely launched and the people are clamoring the world over for its acceptance. Never before in the history of the world has America produced a statesman of the calibre of Wilson. He has gone before the trained diplomats of Europe and forced his decisions over them; he has been without doubt the leading figure in the peace conference. Against the Italian mafia for greedy conquest and the French for vengeance, he has stood as a bulwark, battling for justice to the vanquished as well as the victor.

On Tuesday last John Barleycorn went to his long home and was interred amidst the smiles of the thousands who have watched his work of destruction all the years. May his name be dishonored and his hie unhallowed through the coming centuries!

England is having trouble with her imported labor, who are chiefly negroes from Central Africa. The disturbances have amounted to riots because English workmen will not go into competition with them. If we forget not, it was England that boasted that she had no race trouble because the negroes and whites ate at the same table there. The reason she has had no trouble in the past is because there have been no colored people there to compete with the whites in the labor market.

Those who heard Ensign Pownell explain the usefulness of the Salvation Army could not but have been impressed with his graphic descriptions of the Army's work near the front during the big drives. His story of the night before the battle, where the boys gathered in his hut and talked so solemnly of home, and on the morrow, after they had gone over the top, he found twenty-five of these same boys lying dead on the battlefield, could not help impress his listeners. The Salvation Army went before the artillery, between the supporting waves of infantry and the attacking columns and cooked doughnuts amidst the blood and grime of the front lines. This institution now calls for your help. Will you give it?

STATE OF KENTUCKY, OHIO COUNTY FISCAL COURT JUNE 26th, 1919

It appearing that Ohio County has not sufficient amount of money for road purposes and that the present system of road working by road hands is inadequate and unsuitable for the working and up keep of the roads of Ohio County, and having been called upon by the State Commissioner of Public Roads of Kentucky, as well as by a large number of citizens of Ohio County by petition for a better and more adequate system of the working and upkeep of the country roads of Ohio County, and being desirous of meeting this demand in the best and most practicable way, and it further appearing that a special election upon the question of a 20c road tax may be held at a primary election at but very small expense in addition to the expense otherwise required, and made necessary by holding of a primary election for its general purposes, it is now, on motion of Esq. G. F. Rice ordered and adjudged by the court that a special election be held throughout Ohio County and in each and all the precincts therein on August 2, 1919, for the purpose of submitting the question of voting a tax of 20c on the $100.00 on all property subject by law to local taxation for the improvement or construction of the public roads and bridges of the county, either, or both. Said amount of tax shall be 20c on the hundred dollars each year for a period of five years and no amount of money in excess of the amount that can be raised by the levy in any one year shall be expended in that year, and all indebtedness created in any one year for such road and bridge purposes shall be paid out of the fund raised in that year. Said tax to be an ad valorem tax to be levied each year and collected by the sheriff at the same time and in the same manner and by the same processes that he collects other taxes and for the collection of the tax levied hereunder the sheriff shall be entitled to and allowed a commission of 1 per cent of the amount so collected and no more, as provided in section 4307B-4 of Kentucky Statutes Vol. 3.

The question of voting said tax of 20c ad valorem on the hundred dollar worth of property subject by law to local taxation, shall be submitted to the voters in the following language and not otherwise:

"Are you for a property tax of twenty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property in the county, to be levied each year for five years, for the purpose of improving or constructing, either or both, the roads, and bridges of the county?"

S. A. Bratcher, sheriff of Ohio County, Ky., is hereby appointed, ordered and directed to hold said election, and he shall cause a poll to be opened in each and all of the precincts throughout Ohio County, on the above named date as the law in such cases directs and he will first advertise said election by having a certified copy of this order published in a weekly newspaper published and having the largest circulation in Ohio County, for at least thirty days next before the date of said election, and W. C. Blankenship, Clerk of this court, is ordered and directed to immediately furnish the sheriff aforesaid a certified copy of this order for the purpose of said advertising.

Said sheriff and said clerk are further ordered and directed to do and to perform each and everything required under the laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky in advertising and conducting said election, and in preparing and preserving the ballots and canvassing and certifying the vote and said election is directed to be held in all respects as required by law governing such elections, and under the general election laws of this commonwealth now in force which relate and apply to such elections.

It is resolved and so ordered that the money derived from the taxes so levied and collected shall be used, expended and applied in each and several of the respective magisterial districts of the county where said taxes are so levied and collected, so that each of said districts shall receive all and in full the taxes so levied and collected thereon. Persons carefully selected for their competency and put under bond for the fair and faithful performance of their duties will be employed in each district to see after the work therein, and said taxes shall be for the exclusive working and upkeep of the public roads and the bridges and culverts thereon of said respective districts, and shall be so apportioned, used, and applied as to change the system of road working in Ohio County from the road hand system now in existence to a system of working said roads by the use of proper and improved, adequate and sufficient road machinery, by teams, graders, scrapers, ditchers, drags, picks, drills, dynamite, and other road appliances, adaptable and suitable for both hills and lowlands, so that each and all sections of road whether hill or lowland shall have the attention necessary and suitable for its proper upkeep and convenient use for the several communities affected and for the general traveling public. But the purchase of such machinery, implements and tools shall be made in no event out of the funds derived from the 20c road tax, but exclusively from the funds derived from taxes regularly levied and collected each year as already provided by law, and the men now subject to duties as road hands throughout the county shall be released from such duty.

The amount of said tax shall not exceed the said rate of 20c on the hundred dollars as aforesaid, nor be levied or collected for a longer period than five years. As it is not within our power to levy or have collected any poll tax additional to that already levied and collected, nor to submit the question of voting an additional poll tax, hence the election ordered is for the purpose of levying and collecting a tax on property only. Ayes and Nays being called for resulted as follows: B. F. Rice, Yes; Q. B. Brown, Yes; W. S. Dean, Yes; W. C. Daugherty, Yes; B. C. Rhoads, Yes; G. W. Rowe, No; Sam L. Stevens, Absent; Ed Shown, Yes. Whereupon the motion was declared carried and so ordered.

Before an attack, one suffers sometimes from headache, neuralgia, twinges of pain here and there."

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, when the back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; when you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach; or you have rheumatic pains or lumbago, gout, sciatica, when the weather is bad, do not neglect the warning, but try simple means. Take six or eight glasses of water during the day, then obtain at your nearest drug store "An-uric" (anti-uric acid). This is the discovery of Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. "An-uric" is an antidote for this uric acid poisoning and dissolves uric acid in the body much as hot coffee dissolves sugar. ## APPROPRIATIONS FOR SOLDIERS' PAY CUT

Republicans Reduce Army and Navy Estimates—Other Doings of Old Guard

Washington, D. C.—The Republican pruning knife promises to get its users into trouble by unjustifiable reductions of estimates for the army, the navy and the railroads. Arbitrary totals are fixed by the partisan "steering committee" of the House, which is trying to make a record in slashing for the purpose of the next campaign. While wasting money on themselves Republican Congressmen are unsparing in their curtailment of appropriations for the Government. Within the last few days they have cut nearly one billion dollars from three important supply bills. This was done over the protests of administration officials. Democrats believe that the Republicans are playing politics at the expense of the Government, in spite of their promise not to trifle with appropriation measures.

Here are the reductions:
Railroads—From $1,200,000,000 to $750,000,000; net decrease, $450,000,000.

Army—From $1,117,289,488 to $809,197,000; net decrease, $308,092,488.

Navy—From $824,708,521 (as reported by the Senate Committee) to $598,668,764; net decrease, $226,039,757.

The decreases aggregate $984,132,245.

The grand total of the three bills as they were left last Congress is $3,100,000,000. The grand total as they have been passed or reported to the House is $2,100,000,000. The "steering committee" ordered a cut of one-third. This order has been obeyed.

In reducing the Army Bill the Republicans seized upon the three items of utmost concern just now to the soldiers and their families. Unless the Senate heals the trouble there may be delay in transportation of soldiers to their homes and in providing them with pay and subsistence. The bill reduces pay $67,000,000; transportation, $207,000,000; and subsistence, $30,000,000. These items had already been decreased by the officials of the War Department.

The reductions in the naval appropriations were made in construction, size of the navy, air service, and in ordnance. These items had been cut to the bone by Secretary Daniels and those under him. In the belief that the Republicans would sustain their needs.

League of Nations Fight
Democratic members of Congress believe that Republican leaders of the Senate are inspired to fight the League of Nations by certain interests that would eliminate organized labor.

"I have looked for the cause of the vicious attack on the League of Nations," said Senator F. M. Simmons, formerly chairman of the Finance Committee, "but cannot find a satisfactory answer unless it be the growing influence of labor throughout the world, and especially in this country. I believe the opposition to the League comes from a certain element of capitalists of industry to the increasing demand of working people for more money and better conditions."

High Tariff Plans
The high-protection Republicans are launching their campaign through Representative Joseph W. Fordney, of Michigan, a prince of high protectionists.

Many Republicans who hope to be returned to Congress next year "feared" the election of Mr. Fordney to the chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee lest the old storm of protest against the Cannon-Paynt-Aldrich regime break out anew. But the Old Guard element prevailed, and Mr. Fordney went to the place he has coveted for years.

It was announced soon thereafter that there would be no "tinkering" with the tariff this session of Congress. Announcement to that effect was made by Majority Leader Mondell. But again plans failed, for Mr. Fordney is actually working on a tariff, and he will go just as far as the public permits. It is generally understood in Washington officials circles that the hearings on the tariff are for the purpose of determining sentiment in the country. If danger signs for the Old Guard appear, the hearings will be stopped as though there had been no plan to continue them. There is no doubt in the minds of persons conversant with the situation here that the Fordney measures are the small beginnings of a Republican movement for a protective tariff, drawn on the Fordney-Penrose plan.

Reactionary Republicans Busy
The House is taking the lead in the backward movement to the original program of the Old Guard Republicans which was interrupted by the Progressive movement fifteen years ago. The first step was the reorganization of the House on standpat lines, with Representative Frederick H. Gillett of Massachusetts as speaker, Representative Jas. R. Mann as "boss," and a "steering committee" of reactionaries.

The "steering committee" as it now stands and performs has this membership: Representatives Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, Martin Madden of Illinois, J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, Samuel E. Winslow of Massachusetts, and Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

This committee is supreme in the House. It controls promotions on committees, and dictates the legislative program. It is ruled by Old Guard leaders of the House. It is already apparent that the prediction that the election of either Mr. Gillett or Mr. Mann to the speakership meant standpat domination, was accurate.

It is evident from the type of lobbyist that now foregathers in the corridors of the Capitol and about the hotels of Washington that the Protective Tariff Republicans are back on the job, and that they are expected to get results. The insidious lobby President Wilson discovered and drove from Washington is again at work.

REPUBLICANS ALL

To understand the reach and consequence of testimony at Washington in the treaty-leak inquiry is it necessary to keep in mind the fact that Senator Lodge initiated the performance. It should further be kept in mind that the Massachusetts senator's whole bill of complaint fulfilled. If it did not express, the belief that the apparent breach in the pledge to secrecy at Paris had rebounded to the advantage of partisans of the administration in contemptuous exclusions of the Republicans of the senate foreign relations committee.

But it appears that Elihu Root had the copy of the treaty which Mr. Lodge held and handled while in New York, and Mr. Root is a very distinguished Republican.

Mr. Root got his copy from Henry P. Davison of Morgan & Co., and Mr. Davison is a Republican.

Mr. Davison got the copy from Thomas W. Lamont of Morgan & Co., and Mr. Lamont is a Republican.

J. P. Morgan admitted a financial interest in the terms of the treaty and had heard of copies being in New York, and of course had not lacked facilities for knowing its terms, and Mr. Morgan is a Republican.

If there has been an illegitimate or a partisan breach of the president's pledge to secrecy given to the other great powers at the conference, who effected the breach? If the confidence of the president has been violated, who violated it? If Mr. Lodge had a reasonable grievance on behalf of himself and his party associates in the senate committee on foreign relations, who but influential members of his own party are responsible for the creation of that grievance?

Mr. Root said that the president was under no obligation to send the treaty to the senate or to its foreign relations committee.

A BIT OF ADVICE

First—Don't Delay. Second—Don't Experiment

If you suffer from backache; headaches or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. In such cases the kidneys often need help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Hartford residents desire more convincing proof of their effectiveness than the statement of a Hartford citizen who has used them and willingly testifies to their worth?

L. P. Turner, farmer, Clay street, Hartford, says: "I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills because they relieved me when my kidneys and back troubled me. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a reliable kidney medicine and deserving of great praise."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Turner had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Delco-Light

Brings City Conveniences To The Country Home

With Delco-Light installed you can have electric lights permanently located in your house, barn or other buildings—bright, safe light, just where you want it, instantly controlled by pressing a convenient button.

Delco-Light Saves Time and Labor

You can have electric power to run many appliances formerly operated by hand, such as the washing machine, churn, separator, grindstone, etc.

An electric operated water system will automatically pump and carry the water to the house and barn. It will save countless steps. You can have, if you wish, the great comfort and convenience of a bathroom.

There are no lamps to be cleaned and trimmed daily. Delco-Light benefits every member of the family, every day in the year.

Delco-Light Increases Farm Efficiency

With electric light and power saving time each day, more productive work can be done. Work at night is made easy. Tasks can be done rapidly with convenient electric lights turning night into day.

Delco-Light Lessens Fire Hazards

Electric lights are safe. There are no lamps or lanterns to overturn. There is no flame to start a fire.

Delco-Light is Economical

Delco-Light quickly pays for itself through saving time and labor. Its upkeep cost is low. It is economical in operation. When run on kerosene it will give practically four times the amount of light per gallon of kerosene as lamps or lanterns.

The Delco-Light Power Stands

It is unnecessary to buy new motorized equipment in order to use Delco-Light.

The Delco-Light Power Stand is a portable electric motor that will operate any make of churn, separator or other appliance. It is attached by means of pulleys that are adjustable to any shaft and which will operate at the proper speed.

FARMERS' TAXES

Farmers, who is it that has been raising your taxes on your land in the past three years?

You know that the State put the blame on your county in spite of all your county officials could do.

Judge Caffell, if elected will take away the power of the State Tax Commission to touch land at all, and will leave that to your local people.

This will stop the masses on your land. He says let every county fix its own land values and the state keep out of land assessments. There will be no chance to get this if Carroll is not nominated.

THE IS THE ONLY MAN RUNNING ON THIS PLATFORM.

Farmers, wake up and get busy your medicine. It is hard to make a race in the interest of the farmer because he will not take the interest he ought to in helping his man.

The railroads and mountain capitalists are not for Carroll. It is hard to run for the farmer because the capitalists will fight a man and the farmer will let some local man FOR YOUR SELF. YOU ARE PAYING TOO MUCH TAXES IN PROPORTION TO OTHER PEOPLE. VOTE FOR JOHN D. CARROLL, and once more give us an old time Democrat Governor elected by the people for the people instead of the capitalists and favorer few. This is short. Get busy NOW.

The Truth in Advertising

You've heard about the nation-wide movement against misrepresenting goods for sale. Here's our viewpoint: We're in business to increase sales from year to year. To do this requires the confidence of the people. And to get this confidence truth is an essential. We believe in every article we sell, whether it be a collar button or a suit of clothes, is worth every cent we ask for it—sometimes more. We want you to feel that same way about your buying. If you should not feel that way, the greatest favor you can do yourself and us is to bring it back and give us your reasons. We're open to argument and want you to be, too. Come in, if only to say "HELLO"
